FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

BILLINGS -- Dr. Sam Hamm, Rocky Mountain College associate professor of music, has been elected to serve as president of the Pacific Northwest Chapter of the College Music Society. His two-year term will begin April 1, 2012.

The College Music Society promotes music teaching and learning, musical creativity and expression, research and dialogue, and diversity and interdisciplinary interaction. A consortium of college, conservatory, university, and independent musicians and scholars interested in all disciplines of music, the Society provides leadership and serves as an agent of change by addressing concerns facing music in higher education. The Pacific Northwest Chapter represents members from Montana, Idaho, Washington, British Columbia, Alaska, Oregon, Idaho, and northern California.
