BILLINGS, Jan. 30, 2014 - To see out the old year, Bill Kimmerle bowled his first-ever 300 game Thursday night Jan. 30 in the Consolidated league at Sunset Bowl in Billings. Kimmerle has worked as carpenter at Rocky Mountain College for 18 years, caring for rough carpentry and remodeling across campus. Kimmerle also performs locksmithing and event setup.

His 300 was the middle game in a 737 series, the Billings Gazette reported Jan. 31. He also bowled games of 259 and 178. "It's been a long time coming," he said. "I've been bowling since I was ten."

Kimmerle was on the College of Great Falls bowling team as an undergraduate. Kimmerle was bowling for the All Decked Out team and holds a 197 average. "It has been the talk of the shop," said Crystal Voss, office assistant for RMC Facilities.
